Loznica, Serbia
October 23–25, 2024

Background and event objectives

Dear Colleagues,

During 2024, two significant jubilees will be celebrated – 100 years since the First Congress of Slavic Geographers and Ethnographers in Prague and the publication of the first volume of the monograph Geomorphology by renowned Serbian geographer Jovan Cvijić (1865–1927), one of the Congress initiators. Subsequent Congresses were held in the Republic of Poland (1927), the Kingdom of Yugoslavia (1930), and the Kingdom of Bulgaria (1936). Therefore, on the proposal of the Geographical Institute “Jovan Cvijić” SASA, an initiative to mark these great anniversaries was launched. Taking into account the above, the organization of the 5th Congress of Slavic Geographers and Ethnographers is planned with the aim of gathering eminent foreign and domestic scientists from the field of geography and related disciplines. In this way, we want to continue the tradition of connecting the Slavic peoples, as well as cooperation with the broader international scientific community in the sphere of contemporary scientific achievements.

The International scientific congress is dedicated to topics of wider importance for the scientific community, with the focus on the mentioned publications from previous congresses and the scientific work of Jovan Cvijić. The topics of the upcoming congress are:

1. Physical-geographical processes and their effects on the population (geomorphological processes, hydrology, climate changes, contemporary achievements in natural hazard risk decreasing);
2. Contemporary theoretical and methodological approaches in geography (geospatial data analysis, remote sensing);
3. Population geography (population structure, migrations, predictive and prognostic models);
4. Economic development perspectives and their impact on the population (natural and social resources, including food and water production, markets, infrastructure);
5. Spatial planning (urban and rural development, environment);
6. Historical geography (changing relationship between people and the environment over time, evolution of cultural and economic regions);
7. Political geography (international relations, development strategies, geopolitical issues);
8. Ethnology (ethnic and cultural identities, tangible and intangible cultural heritage, anthropogeographic research, vernacular architecture).

Note: The articles which exclusively relate to the daily political and social events will not be taken into consideration.
